About Korzo – House on the move

Korzo is a leading venue and a creative producer in The Hague (The Netherlands). We work with creatives and partners whose activities intersect dance and movement; they push the boundaries and look beyond. They find a place in and around our programming, which reflects the current leading talent in the fields of dance, music, physical theatre, and circus. We recognize talent, give room to experiment and exploration, and stimulate new developments. We bring creatives and the public together in innovative formats based on the conviction that talent is best served with surprising connections and an open way of looking. It is no coincidence that we have chosen “Here to Move You” as our motto.

FROM SCHIPHOL AIRPORT TO KORZO

From Schiphol airport, you can easily get to The Hague by train (see the next page for more information). The train station is located directly below the terminal building, therefore, you need to take the escalator or lift downstairs to board the train. You can find the NS trains below the main entrance of the airport. Just follow the signs and you can't miss it.

There are two train stations in The Hague:

- Den Haag Centraal
- Den Haag HS

Den Haag Centraal

From the Den Haag Centraal station, you can take the tram number 17 (direction to DH Statenkwartier) from the Den Haag, Centraal Station to Torenstraat. From there is only a 3-minute walk to Korzo!

Another option is to go by foot. It takes around 20 minutes from the Den Haag Centraal to Korzo.

Den Haag HS

From the Den Haag HS station, you can take the tram number 17 (direction to DH Statenkwartier) from the Holland Spoor station to Torenstraat. From there is only a 3-minute walk to Korzo!

Another option is to take a walk through the city centre. It takes around 22 minutes from the HS station to Korzo by foot.

TRAVELLING BY TRAIN

The train network in the Netherlands is very efficient. Tickets can be bought through a ticket machine on all train stations (note that they cost 1 euro extra) or online by using the NS app. However, the easiest way is to use OVpay because you only need your credit or debit card. To get in the train, you need to pass a turnstile. Simply check-in by bringing your card to the small screen. Don't forget to repeat the same process when check-ing out! If there are no turnstiles on the train station (Schiphol airport), you need to find this device to check-in. If you have any troubles, the NS service point can always help you.

NS ticket machine

NS check-in & check-out

I forgot to check-in or out... what now?

It happens to the best of us! You can adjust missed check-ins or -outs on the OV self-service page. Please note you can only do so at least 5 days after your trip. You have a total of 60 days to adjust any missed check-ins or -outs.

GETTING AROUND THE HAGUE

The best way get around the city is by bike. You can cycle almost everywhere. You can rent one at the Central Station for € 4,15 a day.

SHOPPING

Supermarkets

Albert Heijn & Albert Heijn TO GO

Don't fall into the first tourist trap in Holland – Albert Heijn TO GO is present at most train stations and on busy high-street corners. The prices can be higher up to three times the price of the same product in a regular Albert Heijn supermarket. You can easily recognize them by the 'to go' logo and by its smaller size and lack of alleys. While AH 'to go' is a good solution for late hours, it is definitely NOT the place where you want to do your regular groceries.

Jumbo & Jumbo City

Just like Albert Heijn & Albert Heijn TO GO, you do also have a Jumbo & Jumbo City. The Jumbo City is smaller, has less products and three times expensive as a regular Jumbo. It is definitely NOT the place where you want to do your regular groceries.

Outdoor markets

<https://www.denhaag.nl/en/in-the-city/leisure/outdoor-markets-in-the-hague-1.htm>

Outdoor organic market (near Binnenhof)

Every Wednesday the organic market will take place at the city centre of The Hague (walking distance from Korzo) at the Hofplaats. All the products are organic: vegetables, fruit, cheese and also local specialties such as satéh.

The market is open every Wednesday 08.00 – 18.00.

De Haagse Markt

The Haagse Markt is located along the Herman Costerstraat between Hobbemaplein or Hoefkade. The easiest way to get there is to take tram 11 or 12 from the train station Den Haag Holland Spoor, get off at Hobbemaplein or Hoefkade.

The Market is opened every Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday 09.00 – 17.00. Saturday is the best (and busiest) day to visit for fresh fruit and vegetables.

You can also buy flowers, nuts and all kinds of other stuff.

Bookstores

De Vries Van Stockum – Passage 11, <https://www.devriesvanstockum.nl/>

The American Book Centre – all the books are in English. Lange Poten 23, www.abc.nl

General shopping

For any kind of other shopping such as clothing, souvenirs, stationery, cosmetics, etc. The city center of The Hague has plenty of international and local businesses and known brands. The most common areas for shopping are De Passage (the oldest indoor shopping center of the Netherlands, now valued UNESCO monument) and the commercial streets, Grotemarkstraat and Wagenstraat.

ABOUT THE HAGUE

There are about 203 000 trees in The Hague, 400km of bicycle paths, 11km of coastline, 27 000 students, 30 theatres, 26 cinemas, 4292 shops, 98 embassies, 12 consulates, 490 restaurants, over 300 cafes and as of 2023 the population is around 560 000. ## CULTURE IN THE HAGUE

Museums

The Hague has some 30 top-quality museums and can rightly be seen as a city full of art and culture. Some enjoy a worldwide reputation while others are less well known, which only adds to their charm. You can find a complete list here:

<https://denhaag.com/nl/doen/musea-en-attracties/musea/locaties>

The museums we recommend to visit:

Kunstmuseum Den Haag - is one of the most important museums in the world of modern art. The museum's permanent collection contains not only works by Mondrian, but also works by Picasso, Appel and Klee as well as the Dutch landscapes of the Hague School paintings. In addition, the Kunstmuseum organizes dozens of top-notch expositions each year on modern art, decorative art and fashion.

Stadhouderslaan 41, 070 338 11 11, www.kunstmuseum.nl

The Royal Picture Gallery Mauritshuis - is housed in one of Holland's most outstanding classicist buildings next to the Binnenhof. While the Mauritshuis is mainly known for its Dutch Golden Age paintings, including the Girl with a Pearl Earring, there is much more to see. How about a wonderful overview of Dutch and Flemish painting from the 15th to the 18th century? From Flemish primitive art to sun-drenched landscapes, from Biblical figures to detailed still-lives and from serene interiors to humorous genre pieces.

Korte Vijverberg 8, 070 302 34 56, www.mauritshuis.nl

Panorama Mesdag - is the oldest 19th-century panorama in the world still on its original site. See for yourself the vista of the sea, the dunes and Scheveningen as it appeared in 1880.

Zeestraat 65, 070 364 45 44, www.panorama-mesdag.nl

Cinemas

Omniversum – with an impressive 180 degrees 840m<sup>2</sup> IMAX powered giant dome movie screen, 36 speakers and 4 subwoofers.

President Kennedylaan 5, 0900 666 48 37, www.omniversum.nl

Filmhuis Den Haag – largest art cinema house in Holland, which offers authentic movies from all over the world in a variety of languages. Filmhuis also organizes exhibitions, lectures, workshops, video arts and film festivals.

Spui 191, 070 365 60 30, www.filmhuisdenhaag.nl

Pathe – you can catch blockbusters at three different locations around the city

0900 14 58, www.pathe.nl

Theatres

Amare – a new theatre which has opened its doors in 2021. Amare wants to boost connection and anchoring in the city of The Hague. They are committed to reaching diverse communities with quality offerings through education, performances, projects, festivals and programming in the public areas of the building. Amare brings dance, music, music theater and community art of an international level to a wide audience. Amare's partners are the permanent residents: the Residentie Orkest, Nederlands Dans Theater and the Royal Conservatoire.

Spuiplein 150, <https://www.amare.nl/en/voorstellingen>

Het Nationale Theater – three official locations: The Koninklijke Schouwburg, Theater aan het Spui and Zaal 3. Het Nationale Theater produces theatre plays to make you feel at home. They use subjects about important events in the world at this moment. But they also produce classic master pieces.

<https://www.hnt.nl/pQAN3TW/no-dutch-required>

SIGHTSEEING

Binnenhof – This one is hard to miss! The oldest part of the medieval earl's castle, the Knights' Hall and the 'Rolgebouw' behind it date from the 13th century. In the course of the centuries, the Binnenhof was renovated and expanded continuously. As early as the 15th century the Binnenhof housed the County Council and in 1585 it became the seat of the States General of the Republic of the Seven United Netherlands. An exhibition has been opened in the reception area underneath the Ridderzaal (Knights' Hall) dedicated to Dutch parliamentary history.

Binnenhof 8a, 070 364 61 44

The Peace Palace - is a home to a number of international judicial institutions, including the International Court of Justice, or World Court, the Permanent Court of Arbitration, the renowned Peace Palace Library, as well as the Hague Academy of International Law, which attracts law students from all over the world every summer. Accessible to the public through guided tours.

Carnegieplein 2, 070 302 42 42, <https://www.vredespaleis.nl/?lang=en>

Garden of the Noord-Einde Palace - Noordeinde Palace has been the palace of the Royal House since 1609 when the state presented it to William of Orange's widow as a gift. Today, the Dutch monarch uses it as a working palace. The palace itself is not open to the public, but the street that leads to it (Noordeinde) is well-known for having the highest density of art in Holland. The gardens are open to the public daily and can be reached at the end of Prinsestraat (Korzo is at number 42). Just next to the park you'll see the Royal Stables where the horses and coaches of the Royal House are kept. The garden is a perfect spot for lunch during a sunny day!

Prinsessewal, 070 353 30 00

Keukenhof garden

What is Holland known for apart from cheese and weed? Tulips of course. If you are here in April or May you may want to visit the biggest tulip garden in Europe - Keukenhof in Lisse, which is an hour bus ride from The Hague. Just be mindful that the tickets are quite expensive and it is always full of tourist.

Open from 21 March to 12 May 2024, 8.00 - 19.30 daily, including all Sundays and public holidays

Stationsweg 166A Lisse, <http://www.keukenhof.nl/>

The beach - Scheveningen

The Hague has about 11 kilometres of coastline. The Dutch coastline has a rich history because of the second world war. Besides that, it has enough space to go to and relax in your spare time. A lot of trams and busses ride that way. Just make sure you are heading for the right direction.
